THE PRESIDENT’S REPORT

By Jerry M. Greiner, President

FISCAL STABILITY
While we all are conscious of the current economic reality, I am pleased to report that Arcadia University entered the nation’s recession on a sound fiscal footing. We have tightened our belt just like families across the country, and we have remained stable on the strength of our programs as we entered 2009-10.

Arcadia is a tuition-driven University, dependent on graduate and undergraduate enrollments at our Glenside campus and in programs around the world. Our ability to continue to enhance our academic quality, our student services and the beauty of our campus depends upon both our ability to attract and retain quality students and the continuing generosity of our alumni, trustees, faculty, staff, and friends. This report reflects the breadth of the contributions to Arcadia, and we are grateful for each gift and each donor.

Arcadia has been fueled by steady growth over the past decade, growth that has fueled our increasing prestige, our leadership role in international education, new program development, and the hiring of additional faculty members. As we entered fiscal year 2009-10 in the midst of the recession, it was apparent that Arcadia had the strength to weather the initial impact of the economic downturn — and an entrepreneurial spirit determined to strengthen the foundation of the University.

QUALITY STUDENTS
More and more students want to attend Arcadia. The Fall 2009 undergraduate class was the third largest ever. Graduate applications and enrollment in full-time programs set an all-time high. Graduate part-time enrollment was strengthened by our burgeoning online course offerings, particularly in education, counseling, psychology, and business. For the first time in our history, our total enrollment topped 4,000 students this fall.

With more and more high school students applying to Arcadia each year, the University can continue to admit students of high academic quality and continue to serve our broad mission. Our average SAT score for the newest class is 1116 (old) and 1665 (new), and about 60 percent of our students were in the top 25 percent of their high school classes. Our graduate health-related programs are experiencing record growth and selectivity. At both the undergraduate and graduate levels, Arcadia is

“With more than 100 programs around the world — and faculty commitment to bringing global perspectives into all facets of the curriculum, Arcadia turns the world into a classroom for all our students.” Arcadia President Jerry M. Greiner
Arcadia University ranks #1 in the nation for our undergraduate study abroad rate among master’s universities in the 2009 Open Doors, the authoritative annual census conducted by the Institute of International Education.

NATIONAL RECOGNITION FOR REMARKABLE INTERNATIONALIZATION
NAFSA’s prestigious Senator Paul Simon Award for Campus Internationalization recognizes Arcadia’s creation of an integrative learning environment infused with international and multicultural experiences.

A LEADER IN BRINGING THE WORLD TO THE CLASSROOM
Arcadia is a founding member of the American Council on Education’s (ACE) Internationalization Collaborative and is one of a handful of universities chosen to take part in a national initiative of the Association of American Colleges and Universities.

A PIONEER IN INNOVATIVE STUDY ABROAD PROGRAMS
ACE recognized Arcadia’s College for Global Studies and London Preview as best practices. Other innovations are the First Year Study Abroad Experience (FYSAE) and the Majors Abroad Program (MAP).

#1 IN NATION FOR STUDY ABROAD

Attracting high-ability students who want to study in our distinctively global educational environment.

Over the past year, Arcadia has increased its commitment to meeting the many different needs of students. The honors program, study abroad at some of the finest universities around the world, and accelerated degree programs where seniors take master-level classes in the fourth year offer opportunities for academically well-rounded students. Simultaneously, a redesigned Gateway to Success program gives promising students the additional support they need to fulfill their dreams of being the first in their families to attend college or to pursue life-changing career paths. An expanding menu of online programs provides access for adults and working professionals.

AN ACADEMIC REVOLUTION

Last year, Arcadia very successfully completed a multi-year reaccreditation process, earning accolades for its global focus and its strength in the marketplace of higher education as defined through the Arcadia Promise of a global, integrative and personal learning experience. One of the main recommendations from the Commission on Higher Education of the Middle States Association of Colleges was that Arcadia recognize that it has grown from a college into a university and restructure accordingly. Even before this, our academic revolution was well under way.

Over the past decade, Arcadia University intentionally has focused on its transition from a small college into a comprehensive university with quality innovative and integrative programming and a unique focus on global and local interconnections. “Many significant changes mark the evolution of Beaver College into Arcadia University,” noted the accreditation report, citing Arcadia’s “potential to become a true educational leader in re-conceptualizing liberal and professional education in a new, global idiom.” Twice in the past several years, our faculty have undertaken huge, university-wide tasks and produced incredibly innovative results in an amazingly short time, earning nearly unanimous approval of the faculty as a whole. The first was the approval of the new Undergraduate Curriculum, the second was the agreement to create a new academic structure of three innovative colleges. This fall, faculty also approved a new Academic Affairs Strategic Plan. These actions underlie the promise of what Arcadia is becoming, a top tier University.

The first students to take advantage of Arcadia’s trend-setting Undergraduate Curriculum are now sophomores, having completed their First-Year Seminars, perhaps

100 Programs Around the World

With more than 100 programs around the world in 15 countries, The College of Global Studies offers study abroad programs, certificate programs, co-curricular learning initiatives, academic research opportunities, internship programs, faculty and student programs, and service learning projects.
traveling to New York City to analyze a Broadway play or to a nature preserve to study forest evolution. They are now taking University Seminars in a wide-ranging variety of cross-discipline topics and planning their Global Connections Experiences, where they will immerse themselves in other cultures, either abroad or in the United States. Soon, they will begin planning for the storied Arcadia tradition shared by generations of alumni—the Senior Capstone Experience, a rite of passage that puts each student’s scholarly and creative work on campus-wide display.

Arcadia’s academic team is now fully engaged in implementing an Academic Affairs strategic direction that will propel the University fully toward that international leadership position in higher education. We are committed to the highest level of academic excellence. Arcadia already enjoys a strong international reputation for many of its programs and faculty, and it leads the nation in the percentage of students it sends abroad. Now we celebrate our unwavering commitment to a creative and innovative campus populated by globally minded students and scholars.

STUDENTS ENGAGED AT HOME & IN THE WORLD

Seventy-nine freshman trips, 200 organized events, more than 50 clubs, thousands of community service hours, 30 first-year learning communities, 100 home athletic competitions, hundreds of research projects with faculty, dozens of cross-disciplinary seminars. Arcadia has made student engagement an institutional priority to enhance the Arcadia Promise through a culture of engagement where students, faculty, staff and alumni actively participate in and make meaningful contributions to the academic, co-curricular, social and civic life on campus, in the region, and around the world.

If you visited campus this fall, you might have encountered freshmen from a Studio Art Foundations class—dressed in their superhero costume projects, sitting together in the bleachers on Blankley Field, eating free hot dogs, and watching the women pull off a field hockey upset. If you visited after dark, you might have seen an intense game of “manhunt” or other new Late Knight programming. If you watched the women’s soccer team, you would have seen an incredible group of women whose only losses this year were to the eventual NCAA Division III championship team.

If you traveled with graduate and undergraduate students to Guatemala, you would have seen that some of the most important lessons don’t take place in the classroom, but happen when the world becomes a catalyst for learning. If you visited the Homelessness course, you would have seen students going well beyond their comfort zones to a place where they deepened their sociological imaginations. If you were on campus last summer, you would have seen students deeply engrossed in scientific problem-solving with their professors. All of our students have multiple opportunities to learn in real-world settings.

We are committed to the Arcadia Promise, a distinctively global, integrative, and personal education translated into the Arcadia Experience—an experience that culminates in global leadership and a life of professional, intellectual, and community engagement. We promote knowledge discovery and creative activities as a cornerstone of good scholarship, research and teaching, and we strive toward making the whole world the dynamic and living classroom of the future.

STILL AN ENCHANTING CASTLE

To report that Grey Towers Castle hasn’t changed would be inaccurate—in some ways it’s more beautiful than ever as U.S. News & World Report ranks Arcadia University in the top tier of Best Master’s Universities in the North, based on academic quality indicators including peer assessment, student retention, faculty resources, student selectivity, financial resources, and alumni giving.

A TOP UP-AND-COMING SCHOOL
U.S. News also ranks a short list of colleges and universities that are “leading the pack in improvements and innovative changes,” and Arcadia is #2 on the master’s universities in the North list.

#7 PHYSICAL THERAPY PROGRAM IN NATION
U.S. News ranks Arcadia’s Physical Therapy program as 7th in the nation, a peer ranking that measures the high esteem program directors and faculty have for Arcadia programs.

A REVOLUTIONARY CURRICULUM
Arcadia’s ground-breaking new Undergraduate Curriculum threw out the “formula” in favor of a curriculum that integrates interdisciplinary and cross-cultural learning with every major and takes students on the journey of their lives.

“...Arcadia will have filled a crucial gap for current and future students by re-establishing spaces for students and faculty to congregate, study together and cement friendships.”

we uncover and restore its architectural treasures. Its magnetism and allure remain a siren for new students, just as it has for generations. Ghost stories still abound, and the tunnels remain an enticing mystery. The Castle will always be the heart of the University, but a growing student body requires new infrastructure.

The sun-drenched computer stations in Landman Library are almost always filled. Graduate students gather to study in the Easton Café, overflowing to the outdoor patio and pond area as the weather warms. A sold-out enthusiastic audience fills Stiteler Auditorium for every performance of the Knight Club dancers. Students and faculty schedule every available space for meetings and events, and students and athletes vie for green space for casual and organized sports.

When the new University Commons opens in two years, students will have more cozy study and hang-out spaces, more meeting rooms, as well as a new auditorium and expanded exercise facilities. The Chat will get a new home with more space for students, and additional meeting and office space for faculty and students will help to meet our growing needs. Like Landman Library, the face of the new Commons will look out over the central campus green space, with an eye toward the Castle. Beyond the Castle, a new athletics field will provide more space for athletic and recreational activities. When the Commons is completed, Arcadia will have filled a crucial gap for current and future students by reestablishing spaces for students and faculty to congregate, study together and cement friendships. I think this new space will help to foster the kind of campus environment that alumni tell me occurred when everyone could “fit” into the Castle. This is why the Commons remains our highest priority for At Home & In the World – The Campaign for Arcadia University.

Construction of University Commons is expected to begin in 2010.
Our academic advancements also call for revamped laboratories and more classroom space and faculty offices. Some of our growth has come as we expand programs at a second campus in Christiana, Del., and Arcadia now has a global footprint that includes centers abroad in 15 countries. Online classes and courses offered off-site also help us to manage growth, but space remains one of our biggest challenges.

MEETING OUR CHALLENGES

Arcadia is reliant upon the continuing loyalty and generosity of its alumni and friends. At Home & In the World—The Campaign for Arcadia University—not surprisingly given our growth—is setting records. It is the University’s largest fundraising effort ever undertaken. We have received the largest gift ever by an alum to the University, a $5 million gift that allows us to begin work on the much-needed University Commons, the highest priority for the Campaign. And faculty, staff, trustees and alumni have made exceptional individual commitments to the University.

The Campaign will help us to meet many needs, including more scholarships for students, endowed faculty positions, endowed funds for the continuing care of the Castle, new funds for scholarship, research and creative endeavors. All of these priorities are crucial to ensuring that Arcadia pursues its destiny as a University known around the world as a global leader, a trend-setter in international education, a University that prepares all of its students to be leaders in the world, and a compassionate campus where each student is important.

As we enter the new decade, I want to thank all of you who continue to support Arcadia—the trustees, faculty, and staff who were so generous in the initial phases of the Campaign and the alumni and friends who are now engaged in making meaningful gifts. Your names are found in the ensuing pages of this Annual Report, and indeed you are helping to shape the future of Arcadia University.
Throughout our history, Arcadia University has set our sights high. Now the most ambitious Campaign in our history, At Home & In the World – The Campaign for Arcadia University, seeks to transform student life “At Home” on our main campus and to better prepare students to succeed “In the World.”

As a result of the inspiring generosity of our closest friends, we already have accomplished so much. Twenty-five new endowed scholarships have been established. Plans are under way to prepare for breaking ground on the long-awaited University Commons in 2010, and we continue to strengthen the Annual Fund. The University’s trustees, faculty and staff have established new records for giving. Yet to fully reach our $23.5 million goal, we must invite alumni and many friends to join in making their best gifts. For with the Campaign’s success, we not only are improving our University, but lifting the lives and learning of our students.

THIS MAJOR CAMPAIGN TO TRANSFORM STUDENT LIFE AT ARCADIA HAS THREE GOALS.

To enrich student learning and life so our students can excel in a rapidly changing world, the Campaign will:

- Enhance our new Undergraduate Curriculum that infuses international experiences at home and in the world into courses to better prepare graduates for the global economy.
- Build the new University Commons.
- Construct new classrooms and faculty offices.
- Enhance student housing.
- Create a new athletics field.

To renew the beauty and elegance of our campus as an ideal learning environment, the Campaign will:

- Restore our beloved Grey Towers Castle and other significant campus landmarks.
- Establish named endowed funds for the continuing care of the Castle and other landmarks. Provide a new grand entrance at Church Road.
- Improve campus landscaping, lighting and signage.
- Build a beautiful new campus water feature.

To ensure future opportunities for faculty and students to contribute to the world in notable ways, the Campaign will:

- Increase our endowment for student scholarships and distinguished faculty appointments.
- Develop an innovative New Opportunity Fund.
- Strengthen our nationally recognized Annual Fund.

SPECIAL GIVING 2009
The President’s Circle

The President’s Circle is our most distinguished group of contributors of annual, leadership gifts. With their generous support, the University is able to provide an exceptional education that goes well beyond what would be offered by tuition alone. The benefits of membership are many. President’s Circle members receive the satisfaction of enhancing the quality of our students’ education, are invited to exclusive events throughout the year, and are informed about student life on campus with regular updates from President Jerry Greiner. During 2009, President’s Circle members were honored at the Campaign Kickoff at the Elkins Estate (designed by Horace Trumbauer, the architect of Grey Towers Castle), received a special invitation to a champagne reception at the Sunderman Concert, and were invited to a Cast Party following a family theater presentation.

This honor roll recognizes President’s Circle members who made cash contributions from July 1, 2008, through June 30, 2009, as well as new pledge commitments and planned gifts made during this period.
WAYS to GIVE

A charitable gift annuity allows you to make a gift that pays income for life to one or two individuals. Payments are fixed, generally made quarterly, and can be deposited directly to your checking account. Additional benefits include the ability to lock in the value of appreciated stock owned for more than a year, capital gains tax savings, a charitable deduction for a portion of your gift, and membership in the Covenant Society. A minimum gift of $10,000 is required, and annuitant(s) must be age 60 or older.

A charitable bequest allows you to continue your support of Arcadia and to benefit generations of students through an unrestricted gift or by establishing a named endowment for scholarships and other purposes. Your bequest may be for a specific amount (or asset, such as real estate), a percentage of your estate, all or a portion of the remainder, or as a contingency. If you have questions or are interested in learning more about programs that could benefit from your bequest, please contact the Office of University Advancement at 215-572-2945.

Covenant Society

A covenant is defined as an agreement to meet a mutually agreed upon goal. At Arcadia University, Covenant Society members have made planned gifts that help to secure the future of the University and enable the University to meet its goal of preparing new generations of students. Covenant Society membership is available to individuals who have named Arcadia University as a beneficiary of a charitable bequest, retirement plan, or life insurance policy; established a life income gift, such as a charitable gift annuity or trust; or provided another planned gift to benefit the University. Covenant Society members are honored each year at an event hosted by the President and receive special updates during the year.

This honor roll recognizes those who have informed the University of their planned gifts through December 2009.

WAYS TO GIVE

A charitable remainder trust can be established to meet specific income and investment needs (minimum gift of $100,000 required). You may establish a charitable remainder annuity trust that pays a fixed amount each year for life or a charitable remainder unitrust that pays a fixed percentage of income for life, based on the trust’s annual value. A charitable trust also may provide income for a term of years (up to 20) for up to two individuals for their lifetimes and can be funded with cash or appreciated securities (owned more than a year). You receive a charitable deduction in the year of the gift.

A gift of a life insurance policy with a cash value, real estate and other assets may be given to the University. You also may make a gift of a residence and continue to live in it. In this case, you would continue to pay the cost of maintaining the property but receive an income tax deduction based on a portion of your home’s value (determined by IRS tables). Our University Advancement staff would be pleased to review with you the procedures we follow to evaluate and accept these gifts, at 215-572-2945.

LIFETIME GIVING SOCIETIES

Arcadia University has established three societies to recognize donors who have demonstrated leadership through their lifetime giving, including outright gifts, pledges and planned gift intentions for all restricted and unrestricted purposes. The societies are named for three of our institution’s most distinguished presidents: the Reverend Dr. Raymon M. Kistler (President, 1940-60), who worked tirelessly to bring stability through the financial turmoil of World War II; Dr. Edward D. Gates (President, 1960-82), who led the consolidation on the Glenside campus; Dr. Bette E. Landman (President, 1985-2004), whose vision and plan brought the College to University status. Giving levels reflect gifts made through June 30, 2009.

ANNUAL REPORT | 19
ARCADIA ANNUAL FUND

Annual Fund contributors provide the vital support that makes it possible to achieve excellence as a University. Gifts to the Annual Fund enhance the education available to today's students and raise our standing as one of the finest Universities in the North.

The Annual Fund enables the University to provide scholarships, introduce new academic programs, improve student life, purchase resources for the library, and restore historic buildings on campus. The Annual Fund allows Arcadia to do more for every student. The Alumni Fund supports the Beaver College of Undergraduate Studies, and the Graduate Alumni Fund supports the College of Graduate Studies. Alumni are recognized by class year. Knight Society members, recognized with a +, are loyal contributors who have given two or more consecutive years. Individuals who give $1,000 or more annually also are listed in the President's Circle.

This honor roll recognizes those who made cash gifts and matching gift commitments between July 1, 2008, and June 30, 2009.

ANNUAL FUND – UNDERGRADUATE

ANNUAL FUND 2009
WAYS TO GIVE

A matching gift increases the value of your gift at no additional cost to you, allowing you to double or triple the impact of your gift. Use our online search program (www.matchinggifts.com/arcadia) or contact your benefits office to see if your gift to Arcadia University is eligible. In some cases, spouses, retirees and Board members also are eligible for matching gifts.

A pledge is an ideal way to give to the Campaign and for Class Reunions. The University accepts pledges for up to five years and sends reminder notices on the schedule you request. University faculty and staff also have the convenience of paying a pledge by payroll deduction.

A secure online gift or pledge can be completed by visiting www.arcadia.edu/gift using your Visa, MasterCard or Discover card. You will receive a confirmation via e-mail and a receipt, mailed separately.

A gift of cash or check can be put to immediate use by the University through the Annual Fund or directed to other Campaign priorities, such as the University Commons, an endowed scholarship or a faculty position. Checks should be made payable to Arcadia University and mailed to University Advancement, Arcadia University, 450 S. Easton Road, Glenside, PA 19038.

A CLOSE-KNIT GROUP...
A WORLDWIDE NETWORK
How do 26,000 alumni — living around the world — engage with each other and connect with their alma mater? Arcadia University has begun a comprehensive effort to ask alumni for their opinions and to respond with new ways for alumni to “Build Connections and Increase Engagement.”

The Arcadia University Alumni Association comprises all 26,000 living alumni and grows by more than 800 new graduates each year. This worldwide network with close-knit attachments to classmates, professors and other alumni is an essential ingredient in the life of Arcadia University.

Today’s challenge is to find new ways to build an engaged network of alumni, providing the tools alumni need to connect directly with each other as well as relevant activities and programs that meet their changing needs for educational, cultural and social engagement.

The Alumni Association currently is powered by more than 500 volunteers at the Board and class levels, and volunteers who help to organize and guide alumni programming and communications. Their leadership — along with that of many of you who might not be currently engaged — will be invaluable in the coming year. On behalf of the Arcadia University Alumni Association and the Office of Alumni Relations, we invite your participation and value your input and your ideas.

THE PRESIDENT’S TASK FORCE
As we recognize the growing value of our worldwide network, we have taken one of the first significant steps in the Alumni Association’s history — a comprehensive review of our Alumni Association. This assessment review, led by members of the Arcadia University Board of Trustees and Alumni Association Board of Directors, involved interviews with more than 50 alumni, faculty, Board members and staff. Work already has begun on implementing some of the findings in the report prepared by our consultant.

As our next step, President Jerry Greiner has named a President’s Task Force to develop a strategic plan to raise alumni participation in the life of the University to significantly higher levels. Chaired by Kimberly Sterner-Stein ’88 and Charles “Chuck” Lentz ’03M, the President’s Task Force commissioned an alumni survey, conducted via e-mail, to better understand the concerns, interests and volunteer roles of our alumni.

AN INCLUSIVE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION
The work of the President’s Task Force builds on the commitment of more than 150 active volunteers who serve on the Alumni Association Board and its nine committees: Affiliation, Awards and Honors, Career, Graduates of the Last Decade (GOLD), Nominating, Class Presidents, Program, Reunion, and Travel.

Arcadia is among a small percentage of universities offering all alumni membership in its Alumni Association as well as alumni services without dues. All alumni are members of the Alumni Association and are invited to attend the annual meetings.

Class Officers: More than 350 alumni serve as Class Officers — Class Presidents, Fund Agents, Editors, Reunion Chairs and Reunion Committee members. They work closely with the Office of Alumni Relations and the Annual Fund Office to keep classmates connected through Class Notes, Facebook, Annual Fund appeal letters, and Reunion planning.

Career Networking: With Students
Alumni share career interests, networking tips and job experiences with students each year at the Career Networking Luncheon, co-sponsored by the offices of Alumni Relations and Career Development. In 2008, keynote speaker Adam Denish ’89, veterinarian and owner of an animal hospital and boarding kennel, told students: “Never say ‘no’ to open doors and new challenges. You never know where they will lead you.” In addition, the 800-strong mentoring network connects alumni and students in focused areas of career interest.
A POWERFUL ALUMNI NETWORK
The Alumni Association and Office of Alumni Relations are dedicated to building connections among alumni and their classmates, honoring alumni achievements, strengthening the value of an Arcadia degree, showcasing exceptional faculty, and enhancing networking. Whether it’s hundreds of alumni attending Reunion or dozens attending a luncheon, the number of alumni engaged in current programming adds up. Activities include:
• The Athletic Hall of Fame
• Florida Reunions
• Career Networking Luncheons
• Volunteer Appreciation Luncheons
• Student Alumni Ambassadors
• Community Service
• Class Identity Initiatives
• Alumni Homecoming at Fall Fest
• Reunion Weekend
• Arcadian Adventures
• Alumni Travel
• Career Mentoring

The year 2009 marked the third Alumni Homecoming at Fall Fest with more than 800 alumni, students and families on campus for a weekend of special activities. The Office of Alumni Relations works closely with Student Affairs to welcome alumni back to campus for social and educational events ranging from athletic competitions to receptions and Art Gallery exhibits. This past year, a hearty group of students and alumni ventured on a bike ride through Fairmount Park. More than 50 alumni returned to campus to play in an alumni women’s soccer game in the morning and an alumni men’s soccer game in the afternoon at the GOLD picnic. Alumni were feted at various receptions:
• Legacy Reception for alumni and their students
• ALANA reception
• Knight Out Reception for loyal donors

The day ended with a dazzling display of fireworks over Landman Library — a wonderful homecoming for all.

The Arcadia Business Alumni Association and Physical Therapy Alumni Association are examples of the power of alumni who want to share ideas and stay connected to each other and their faculty. Energized by new leadership under Nathan Hayward ’06, ’09 M.B.A., business alumni held their first Summer Networking Picnic, hosted business leaders and Pennsylvania Auditor General Jack Wagner, conducted educational presentations, and established a new endowed scholarship for Arcadia University M.B.A. students.

The Reunion 2009 theme “Welcome Home!” was just that for more than 250 alumni and friends. Highlights of the weekend included the Friday evening Awards Presentations, Saturday Parade of Classes, Reunion Luncheon and Song Contest Competition, Faculty Art Exhibit, Saturday Evening International Dinner and Woodstock Concert with Dave Binder. The Golden Disc Awards were presented to deserving alumni, and classes were honored for Reunion attendance and generous class gifts.

Getting Together: In Florida
For 16 years, alumni have been hosting Florida Reunions for residents and snowbirds. Nearly 100 alumni and friends gather each February. Area coordinators host four venues: Sue Burnison Burrows ’53 in Naples, Marilyn Neuberger Blocklinger ’53 in Sarasota, Joanne Brayton Jacobs ’68 in Orlando, and Shirley Canning Scatcherd ’59 and Loli Jaeger Lindstrom ’59 in Delray Beach.
The 2009 Reunion Awards are:

- 50th Reunion Class Gift, Class of 1959: Extraordinary gifts, both large and small, reflect the generosity of the 50-year Class, which raised more than $113,000 during the Reunion year, commemorated with the dedication of a Smart Classroom in Easton Hall in honor of the Class of 1959. The class also was awarded the Ethlyn Selner Mack Bowl for the highest five-year participation rate and the Cornell Cup for the highest Reunion attendance, with 33 classmates returning to celebrate their 50th Reunion.

- The 2009 Bette E. Landman Plate was awarded to the Class of 1934, with a five-year gift total of $2,101,060.

- The 2009 Montgomery/Bucks Club Scholarship gift is designated for the Laura Lind McKee Scholarship Fund. More than $90,000 has been raised over the years by dedicated alumni members in honor of Laura Lind McKee ’15.

Caravanning through the Alps, studying history, culture and nature in China, Greece, England and Alaska are just a few of the trips organized by the Association’s Travel Committee, chaired by Christine Thurston Macaluso ’95. In 2008 alums explored the history and culture of Eastern Europe while cruising down the Danube River, celebrated “60 Years of Study Abroad” in Paris by riding bikes through busy Parisian streets, and enjoyed a winter getaway to Rome.

50-Year Reunion: Class of 1959
Reunion 2009 was a red-carpet weekend for the Class of 1959. With 33 classmates returning to campus for their 50th anniversary, they won awards for attendance and participation in Reunion and the Annual Fund, and they enjoyed having a Smart Classroom in Easton Hall dedicated in honor of their class gift.

Our goal is to find increasing ways to help undergraduate and graduate alumni connect with the University and each other. If you are interested in getting involved, contact the Office of Alumni Relations at 215-572-2160 or e-mail alumni@arcadia.edu. As always, we welcome your feedback and thoughts.

The door is always open at Blankley Alumni House.
